LETTER FROM GEORGE O. BARNES

A curious thing, this coke. It is a real charred coal. What we call charcoal is only charred wood. It is baked in round ovens, with a door in one side about 3 feet high by 2 broad, at a guess, and a round vent atop, with a movable chimney—truncated, cone-shaped—to regulate draught. Skill is everything, after your coal is found cokeable. To fire too much will consume. To fire too little is to fail in coking. In 80 hours, carefully watched, your 130 bushels of slack, which is the charge of one oven, will yield 150 bushels of coke; and coke is worth more than coal, bushel for bushel.

When it is cooked, water is thrown on, in jets, carefully applied, to cool it off gradually. Then with a large potato-digger-like implement, it is clawed out of the door, still hot, but no more like the coal that went in, black and shivered to small fragments, than "chalk is like cheese." The resultant bake is a gray, fine-grained, at times lustrous mass, in long, flakey slabs of varying sizes, and shapes; light to light; ringing metallically, as the pieces fall together; and utterly unlike the mineral it came from, except in combustible qualities. Its heating power bears about the same ratio to coal as charcoal compares with wood. I am guessing at this. Wonderful are these furnace revelations to me. I hardly dare to think them out for myself, much less for others. But I feel sure that we have much to learn yet, if we will but learn it, of that "riches of grace" in two well-known scriptures: "The elder shall serve the younger," and "the last shall be first and the first last."

Angels must learn that those who have sinned and suffered are to go "far above" them in the scale of future glory. Have we no lesson like that to learn? Verily, yes. "He that hath ears to hear let him hear." The rest are blind and deaf.

I thought it over, again, the other day as I stood above John's coke ovens; now stepping aside to avoid their fiery breath as the hot flame poured from the chimney tops; now half-stifled with the fumes, as from the inferno; where slack, by the marvellous chemistry of what could only go on in fire, was changing to coke, that eventually was to command a higher price than even block in open market.

Ye who "plow with my heifer" shall read my riddle—none else.

We have had a blessed meeting in the open woods above Glen Mary. "Blind leaders of the blind" have held aloof, as usual. The "humble sons" have been made glad. "We have never lacked listeners—about as many as could be comfortably addressed in "the open"—and the joy of teaching the willing has been very great.

Monday night John was called by telegram to the bedside of a dying sister, in Nebraska, and left in haste. Oh, but we did miss him, sorely. Yet we would not have had him stay.

And now as this sweet "home" of two weeks is about to vanish, practically, from our lives, though from loving memory, never, let me enshrine it, in a little pen-picture, in those, perhaps, ephemeral memories of our journeys by land and sea. I don't know whether I shall ever be of enough consequence in the hearts and lives of my generation to have these records recalled, in after time. The newspaper, in which they are printed, may be the type of their brief existence. Be it so. But read carefully once, or carefully again and again, let those who read know how dearly we love John Clarke and his gentle wife. The Glen Mary cottage will always be associated with the densest green I remember ever to have observed on summer foliage. The unwelcome rains of this usually arid season have told upon the leaves of trees and undergrowth in a very remarkable manner. The pure white of John's cottage gleams in freshest beauty through this contrasting shade. At the bottom of the gentle slope, in front, ripples and sings the winding creek; overhung on the farther side by varied forest shrubbery, all graceful, in mingled and differing greens. The new foot-bridge, just completed, in front; the old one further down the rivulet; both pretty and rural; the arched gateway at the bottom of the broad sandstone slabs mounting to the elevated verandah; the graceful butternut, hickory and oak trees in the front yard, with "bitter-sweet" climbing two of them in graceful spirals; the tall yellow poplar, across the creek, standing sentinel at the yonder end of the new foot-bridge; the wild grape and other vines clambering over the "stone dyke," as the dear Scotch call a rock fence; the well-ordered out-houses, on the steep hill in the rear; the perfect kitchen, proclaiming in no uncertain way that its mistress came from north of the Ohio river; the home-like fowl-yard, with its pretty, pecking, crowing, cackling denizens, how charming it all is! "Bruiser," the barely grown, half-bull, dog-pup, in his untrained but promising youth, is rather a trial than a comfort; seeing he fiercely bays at the friends visiting the house, and has nearly bitten one or two, who have inconsiderately struck at him with stick or stone; while he has formed inconvenient alliances with strange curs, whom he allows to march, unmolested, through the premises; and evidently thinks the vagrant pigs ought to have the run of the yard also; not even rebuking one carnivorous sow, who has already devoured 13 out of 16 of the most recently hatched brood of chickens, and threatens to decimate the fowl-yard. But "Bruiser" will learn to do the right thing later on; for he lacks not intelligence and is willing to learn.

At 5:30 p. m. promptly appear two vehicles to bear us up hill to the meeting. John's exquisite turn-out is a light Fredonia wagon, drawn by the daintiest little white mules that, to us, ever wore harness; gentle as dogs; strong; fearless of steam; true to pull; and, driven by John, would scramble up a cliff at an angle of 45°, as deftly as goats. Lovable little creatures, out of whom the inevitable kick seems to have been eliminated. Perhaps it is only latent. But it will never be developed, under the kind petting treatment they receive from all. The team is well-known in the country as "Chancy Knobs" that lies across the outlet of Glen Mary. Sister Clarke and the girls mount the Fredonia wagonette; the little beauties trot lightly away with them; while I follow in another Fredonia, drawn by a neat black mare, and driven by good old Bro. Heaps, with whom I have much "discourse by the way," as we mount the hill. He is from "Merrie England," and speaks its broad dialect still, after 40 years in America. It is music to me, as are all the differing patois dialects of the tribes of Israel, that inhabit the "Isles of the West." "Jennie" and "Mary" are the little mules of the snowy coats. "Sallie" is our gentle black.

The stirring life of the cottage is kept at a vigorous point by John's two nephews—splendid boys of 10 and 12—now on a visit, till their school life in Allegheny, Pa., begins in the early fall. Kingsley and Kenneth Clarke are lovely children; sprightly; obedient; obliging; and in every way so lovable that this sketch of our Glen Mary life would be dolefully incomplete without their beautiful boyish personalities in the full foreground.

Thus have we gone in and out, up and down, now, for 14 days, full of great, unutterable pleasures. The lines of the pretty picture so imperfectly drawn with pen so indelibly charming as written upon "memory's tablets," will never fade from our loving hearts.

Surely, the dear LORD, knowing what we needed, sent us to this pleasant spot, to gather strength and courage for the further journey; with many a rough place in it, mayhap, where the thoughts of Glen Mary and its mercies shall be to us a very "Hill Mizar," to keep in good cheer the downcast soul—else sorely "disquieted within us."

Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

DRIPPING SPRINGS.

TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS.

I have made arrangements to run a free railroad excursion from Lebanon, Junction City and Stanford on Friday, August 31st, or on Saturday, September 1st, provided I can get a sufficient number to come to justify the enterprise. There will be no charge for railroad transportation coming or returning, and no charge for conveyance to Springs. And the rate at hotel will only be $1 per day, and you can stay at the Springs from 3 to 15 days at that rate.

There will be a Grand Fancy Dress Masked Ball on the night of the 1st of September, to close at 12 o'clock with a big display of Fire Works. There will be a dance every night and special attractions and entertainments during the entire 15 days. Dripping Springs has had a glorious season this year and I want to wind up in a big jollification. All persons who will join the excursion, or who will assist to work up a crowd, will please inform me immediately by mail and I will let you know by the 25th of August whether we will have the excursion or not. Respt.,

D. G. S.

P. S.—There have been 95 arrivals at Dripping Springs in the last four days. As a special inducement to all who want to come before Tuesday, the 21st, I will tell them that there is a bare possibility that I could give them a bed on the floor and a seat at the second table. A good many will leave on Tuesday, the 21st, and I will have several vacant rooms then. Respt., D. G. S.

SECOND POSTSCRIPT.—Those who are bound to go to the Springs before Tuesday should try Bro. Spoonamore at Hales Well. He is a good, clever fellow, has good water, sets a good table and never "blows." Lebanon Standard and Danville Advocate please copy. D. G. S.

An Open Letter to R. C. Warren.

DEAR SIR—It was claimed by some of the prohibitionists at Turnersville last Saturday that your "response" to Dr. Lewis, W. H. Murphy and W. C. Bailey was written for publication. It was proposed by some that it be published. I opposed this, stating that I looked at it as a friendly, courteous letter and should be treated more as a private correspondence than a paper intended for the public. My request was heeded. But I find now that I was mistaken. Its appearance in the Interior Journal of Tuesday indicates that it was intended for campaign thunder and honey. All parties will agree that I had nothing whatever to do with the invitation sent you to engage in a discussion at Turnersville. As matters have assumed their present shape, I deem it proper that I should notice some things in your letter.

1. In the introduction (I suppose editorially) it is stated that "Mr. Warren gives his reasons for not wishing to debate against a question which from a moral standpoint he is in sympathy with, and they strike the key-note of the position of the democrats in this campaign."

I suppose that is true with many democrats, but not all. Think of a man set out with his party to purify the government; their moral sympathies are on one side of a great national issue, but their platforms, papers, preferences and politics are on the other side! If you keep that position, watch that you do not grow bow-legged and conscience-warped.

2. Mr. Warren says: "Neither I nor the party I belong to have any war to make on the prohibition party in this campaign." Certainly a crank should should appreciate such peaceful asseverations. But perhaps Mr. W. only means to say that he and his party have no war to make on the prohibition party in Lincoln county, where a large number of the firmest prohibitionists have formerly voted the democratic ticket. No one blames Mr. W. for the insult offered the prohibition club at Turnersville and through them to all prohibitionists. It matters not who, in the name of democracy, does the kicking out, it will require softer, sweeter tones to call them back than the whistle of "our honest Dick," though we love you.

Must I remind Mr. W. that this is a national campaign? And does he not know that his party has placed its candidates upon a platform condemning prohibition laws? And do you not know, Mr. Warren, that your party in Kentucky claims the defeat of prohibition even elsewhere as a democratic victory? Do you know, Mr. Warren, of a single democratic convention—national, State or county, that has given an expression on prohibition without condemning it?

3. You seem to think that on the tariff issue prohibitionists and democrats are agreed. If you mean that the prohibition party endorses the Mills bill or the president's tariff message, allow me to correct you. Read our tariff platform.

We regard the differences between the democratic and republican parties on the tariff as utterly insignificant in comparison with the legal prohibition of the liquor traffic and its consequent evils. Prohibitionists are determined not to be moved from their purpose by the republican-democratic scare-crow, tariff.

4. You say you consider all votes cast for a candidate who has not the ghost of a chance as thrown away. Would you tell a democrat in Kansas, who has not the ghost of a chance to elect his candidate, that if he votes the democratic ticket he throws his vote away? We are just weak enough to believe that he who votes contrary to his principles not only throws his vote away, but also his principles.

5. You say "Let us purify the government." We answer, good! But we have little hope of success through either of the old parties. We can only hope for success through a party that unites its moral sympathies with its principles and supports its honest conviction with its votes, without fear of party lash. We must have a party possessed of sufficient moral force to enforce all laws enacted by decided majorities.

Most respectfully yours, JOS. BALLLOE.

HUSTONVILLE.

—A dance (I don't know for what benevolent object), was kept up till 1:30 Tuesday night. It is bad hygiene to keep such late hours.

—J. B. Green, the veteran Sunday-school man, has been reelected superintendent of the Moreland Mission. On next Sunday he will organize a similar enterprise in the Carter district, west of town.

—C. S. teachers and candidates for certificates will please remember that Monday, the 20th inst., is the day for opening the Teachers' Institute at Stanford. The law is imperative, requiring all actual or expectant teachers to attend during the five days of the session, under heavy penalties for failure.

—Our quiet village has subsided into a semblance of peaceful repose. Since 9 p. m. it has been impossible for tired labor to find a moment of slumber. The fact is, we of the old regime have not learned and cannot learn the ways of the present generation. It is a trite maxim that "history repeats itself." Society, however, is progressive; or, rather, it obeys another edict of philosophy and moves in cycles. We have first the savage state, in which the breechless biped wrestles with nature to win a scanty subsistence. Next comes the civilized industrious epoch, when the mind begins to grasp the capabilities of the fair world we inhabit. Idleness becomes disreputable, mind asserts itself and gives its sure guidance to muscle. The wigwag gives place to the substantial habitation. Education and enterprise suggest and carry out schemes of improvement. The comforts and the real enjoyments of life are multiplied. Honesty is regarded as a virtue; sociability and neighborly kindness the test of true nobility of soul; and the common good the great object of ambition. But then comes the age of grasping avarice and soaring ambition and grinding selfishness and "Boston culchur," and then retrogression, or rather decadence, begins. Idleness and extravagance and envying luxury and gilded vice soon relegate us to primitive barbarism. This is not imagination. Babylon and Nineveh, Tyre and Alexandria, Jerusalem and Thebes, are all dim shadows of buried magnificence. The Pyramids alone of all earth's ancient glory remain without a history, with no apparent design, with only countless ages of inutility. But this is not what I want to talk about. A case of pursuit of pleasure under difficulties is reported from Yosemite. A man who dispenses the ardent found that some one from the outside was in the habit of inserting his arm through an aperture, dropping a proof vial into a convenient barrel and extracting the coveted nectar. The owner lay for the pilferer and when the arm next appeared, discharged his gun into the muscle. Dr. Brown thinks that what is left of the arm may possibly be utilized.

Are you made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Digestive is a positive cure. McRoberts & Stagg, Stanford, Ky.; Crow & Co., McKinney, Ky.; E. W. Jones, Crab Orchard, Ky.

Ask For Ayer's

Sarsaparilla, and be sure you get it, when you want the best blood-purifier.

With its forty years of unexampled success in the cure of Blood Diseases, you can make no mistake in preferring Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

For any other. The fore-runner of modern blood medicines, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is still the most popular, being in greater demand than all others combined.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is selling faster than ever before. I never hesitate to recommend it."—George W. Whitman, Druggist, Albany, Ind.

"I am safe in saying that my sales of Ayer's Sarsaparilla far exceed those of any other, and it gives thorough satisfaction."—L. H. Bush, Des Moines, Iowa.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills are the best selling medicines in my store. I can recommend them conscientiously."—C. Bickhaus, Pharmacist, Roseland, Ill.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"I have sold your medicines for the last seventeen years, and always keep them in stock, as they are staples. 'There is nothing so good for the youthful blood' as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—R. L. Parker, Fox Lake, Wis.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I have in stock. I recommend it, or, as the Doctors say, 'I prescribe it over the counter.' It never fails to meet the cases for which I recommend it, even where the doctors' prescriptions have been of no avail."—C. F. Calhoun, Monmouth, Kansas.

W. P. WALTON.

ELDER BALLOU is a natural-born fighter and had not the bent of his mind turned to religious matters, he would have developed into a more noted pugilist than John Sullivan. He is so anxious for a fight that notwithstanding Mr. Warren's courteous declaration to engage in a contest against a question in which morally he is in sympathy, that he could not resist the temptation to give him a few rounds anyway, though no reference was made to him, or anything said by Mr. Warren that especially demanded an answer. The gentleman from "Cracker's Neck," however, indirectly, but no less forcibly, endeavors to leave the impression that the democratic candidates have been nominated on a platform condemning prohibitory laws, by putting the charge in the shape of an interrogatory. We can and do answer him by saying that no reference to prohibitory laws is made in our platform, neither is the defeat of prohibition, except when it is paraded as a party question, regarded as a democratic victory. As for ourselves, we have always advocated the most stringent regulation of the liquor traffic and whether it is accomplished by high licence or entire prohibition we care very little. There is not such a difference as Mr. Ballou would infer in his platform and ours on the tariff question, either. He says that "import duties should be so reduced that no surplus shall be accumulated in the treasury and that the burden of taxation be removed from the necessities of life," while ours expresses the same idea in more elaborate form. But we are not going to take issue with you, or any other prohibitionist, Bro. Ballou. Or many of your points we are agreed and the INTERIOR JOURNAL, like its editor, is always at your service, sir.

THE KANSAS CITY Times contains a cut and a sketch of the life of Judge W. P. Campbell, who was recently nominated by the democracy of Kansas for associate justice of the Supreme Court. He is a brother of F. J. Campbell, one of the proprietors of Rock Castle Springs, and like him is a man of fine mind, indomitable energy and unlimited ambition. They have another brother, J. P. Campbell, who is a banker at Clay Centre, Kansas. The Campbells were raised here, are strictly self-made men and deserve more credit than any men we know of. They have by their own unaided exertions attained highly honorable positions in life, besides securing a sufficiency of this world's goods to put them in comfortable circumstances, if no more. Lincoln county is proud of them.

THAT weak invention of the enemy to injure Belva Lockwood's chances for the presidency, viz: the charge that she does not wear a bustle, has been silenced by the lady herself, who, it is said, quietly remarked, "Neither does Grover nor Benny, for that matter." Belva is right, Grover doesn't need such an appendage and the son of his grandfather would look even lower and more stumpy with one.

God bless the women! They are always ahead in every good word and work. Statistics show that of the total church membership they compose more than two-thirds and in the United States where the sexes are about evenly divided, there are 55,000 men in the penitentiary to 5,000 women. It will be just this way in heaven, too, unless we poor mortals mend our ways.

THE republicans are going to send Blaine out to California with the hope that his eloquence and magnetism may pull through the man Hallison, as the Chinese call him, but those in a position to know say it will be love's labor lost. The people on the Golden Coast can't swallow the man who voted to flood the country with the riffraff from Mongolia.

BILLY BRECKINRIDGE is announced for reelection and we have many $15 in our inside pocket and elsewhere which say he will be his own successor in Congress. The hump men and those who oppose him had as well spend their money in purchasing ropes to hang themselves as trying to keep the "silver-tongued" from being reelected.

MAYOR FRANCIS, of St. Louis, will be the next governor of Missouri, his nomination being practically settled by the primaries. He was born in this county on the classic waters of Dix River, and the friends of his youth and young manhood have watched his steady upward career with genuine pride.

Nor content with the big field he has in the Advocate, Mr. S. G. Boyle seeks others to conquer. He has bought an interest in the Kentucky Stock Farm at Lexington for $11,000, it is stated.

A MEETING of the Executive Committee of the State League is called at its headquarters in Louisville August 28th at 1 o'clock. Mr. R. C. Warren, of the National Association, will attend.

THE official majority of Myers, democratic candidate for sheriff in Casey, is 127. The same county, it is said, will give Gen. Wolford 400 to 500 majority.

THERE have been but two deaths and a limited number of cases of yellow fever at Jacksonville, Florida, but the situation there is harrowing. A panic has struck the people, who remember the horrors of 1873, and they are fleeing in terror from the saffron scourge. It is said that all who can have fled for refuge and there is danger that those who lack means to get away may soon want for the simplest necessities of life. Hotels, boarding-houses and restaurants are closed. Banks are out of money. Provisions cannot get in and nothing save telegraphic messages can get out. The whole world has sternly shut its doors against this little suffering community.

BRO. LOGAN is right, we hope, in regard to "Dr. Hull's" diagnosis of our case, but we are in a pretty bad snap all the same and get no better. Carbuncles, like politics, is h—l, and don't you forget it. The sympathy expressed by our kind brethren of the press and others goes far, however, towards helping us bear the ills we have with patience and christian fortitude and we are profoundly thankful to them.

THE newspapers of the old world are continually showing their ignorance of the new world's affairs, but it was left for a Florence, Italy, journal to make the worst break. It remarks with all the gravity of conscious knowledge: "During President Blaine's European visit Congressman Cleveland has been in charge of the White House."

THE governor of Michigan is the poorest paid official of his rank in the country. He only gets $1,000 and has to skirmish around for his board. Fortunately for his people, he has no chance to steal anything, or being a republican, he might be able to catch even.

THE noble old Roman, Hon. A. G. Thurman, will open the campaign at Point Huron, Michigan, next Wednesday. The democracy has a fair show of carrying Michigan and Thurman's speech is set the ball moving for the promised victory.

NEWS CONDENSED.

—Lawrence Jerome, a distinguished New Yorker, is dead.

—The citrus belt of Southern California shipped this year 2,250 car-loads of oranges.

—The "Fair," an establishment in Louisville, which kept everything in the mercantile line, has assigned.

—Miss Lillie Cleveland, a cousin of the president, who died in Kansas, was interred this week at Frankfort.

—There are now pending in Congress new pension measures, which, if passed, would call for an outlay of $2,500,000,000.

—Still county voted to subscribe $100,000 to the capital stock of the Nicholasville, Richmond, Irvine & Beattyville railroad.

—Jim Jones and Joe Rosenberg, policemen, were stabbed to death in Louisville by Chas. Dilgen, whom they were trying to arrest.

—Leading democrats say that the little shaking up they got 2 years ago will have the effect of returning Carlisle to Congress by 6,500 majority.

—Charles Fleming was stabbed four times by W. S. Duncan, at Hopkinsville. The divorced wife of the dead man was arrested for complicity in the deed.

—An Ohio girl apparently died and was placed in her coffin, from which she arose 36 hours afterwards. She had been in a trance, but was perfectly conscious of what was going on.

—Capt. Jack Williams, professional swimmer, floated on his back from Alton, Ill., to St. Louis, 75 miles, with his hands strapped to his side and legs bound together, in 8 hours.

—A Chicago letter box was robbed on Tuesday night. Checks, drafts, money orders and other negotiable papers have been recovered to the amount of $250,000, but the thief and money are still hid.

—The news comes via Catlettsburg that the Hatfields and McCoy's have been at it again and in a pitched battle the Hatfields had suffered a loss of three killed and two wounded and the McCoy's but three wounded.

—Three officers went to Cedar Creek church, near Greenwood, on the 12th inst., to arrest Andy Hamlin, charged with the seduction of a young girl. Hamlin's brother organized a posse, rescued him and shot the officers.

—A freight train on the Erie railroad was wrecked near Shohola, N. Y., and an express train, due at the time of the accident, crashed into the wreck, an attempt to flag it having failed. One man was burned to death and several persons were fatally injured. Gebhardt and Mrs. Langtry lost 14 fine horses.

—Frank Gallup was caught beating his aged father at Shenandoah, Ia., and on being remonstrated with by his neighbors he killed two and wounded another of them. Then he attempted to escape, but a well-directed shot laid him low. His body was then dragged through the streets by the infuriated citizens, who forced Gallup's wife to put a rope about his neck for that purpose.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Hogs are selling at 5½ cents for feeding in this county.

—Editor M. D. Hughes is suffering intensely from a severe case of the croup. His many friends hope that he may soon be relieved.

—At Richmond on Wednesday in the trotting race the horse Outlaw, by Outcast, ran into the fence and snagged himself very badly.

—Eb Cooley, who has been living in Kansas, has returned to stand trial in circuit court for an indictment for malicious shooting.

—We had quite a lively discussion here on Tuesday night by some members of the legal profession. Subject—"Should woman be given the same education as man?"

—Yesterday, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. J. L. Eads was married to Miss Emma Merriman. Ceremony by Rev. Mr. Johnson. All of this county.

—The Garrard County Teachers Institute was held here this week. The exercises were conducted by Prof. Smith, of Columbia, and the County Superintendent, Mr. J. T. Baughman.

—The tobacco crop of Garrard, which was thought to be almost a failure some time ago, now bids fair to be one of the best ever raised, though the acreage is not more than one-half of last year.

—The following is the full docket of our circuit court, which convenes next Monday: Appearances 78; commonwealth 87; old equity cases 155; new equity 39; old common law 12; common law appearances 39.

—Elder Perkins, of the Christian church, is holding a revival at Scott's Fork church in the Buckeye neighborhood, this county. Much interest is being manifested and several confessions have been made.

—A good rain is needed badly. Farmers are cutting tobacco. Mr. James A. Burnside is in Madison, soliciting shipments of tobacco to his house in Louisville. Corn is selling near Buckeye at $1 per barrel in the field. Hogs are very scarce in this county.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—J. H. Davis, of this place, has been granted a patent on a farm gate.

—H. W. French has given up his place as night policeman and has again taken charge of the work-house.

—Adam Groves toted a pistol and disturbed a "festival" in the west end about two weeks ago. For the concealed weapon he got $50 fine and ten days in the work-house; for the disturbance ten days in the work-house. The trial took place Tuesday.

—Miss Mary Burk was the victim of a storm party Wednesday night. The "stormers" were Miss Bailey, Covington; Miss Gaines, Louisville; Misses Pulliam, Miss Baker, Misses Yeiser, and Messrs. James Fisher, John Dunn, George Pulliam, J. Shelby and Howard Marrs.

—Rev. George O. Barnes continues to preach at the court-house to large congregations. Wednesday night before beginning his sermon he referred to an article which appeared in the Kentucky Advocate of the 14th inst. which did him the greatest injustice. The article in question said: "Perhaps the most successful meeting he (Barnes) held at that time (ten years ago) was in this city where he preached twice each day for three months, and wound up with about 1,500 'confessions' from men, women and children. Then as now Mr. Barnes was not connected with any church organization, consequently nine-tenths of those who were induced to take the 'first step' followed his example and did not connect themselves with the churches, but drifted back to the world." Replying to this, Mr. Barnes said that he had not supposed that any one who knew anything at all about him did not know that he was a member of the Church of England. He said that he had always advised his converts to join churches, and that the reason he does not now take confessions is that his views on that subject have changed, and that in his opinion all the confession necessary for the convert to make is to his God alone. He said that if indeed nine-tenths of his converts of ten years ago had drifted back to the world, the explanation could be found in the unrelenting hostility of nearly all the clergy of Danville to everything he did; that they would not attend his meetings and treated his converts with coldness. Mr. Barnes and family are the guests of Mrs. Barnes' nephew, Dr. J. C. Bogle. Among those who attended the services Wednesday night were Mrs. W. G. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Warren, Mr. Allen, of Stanford, and Miss Anna Burrows, of Paint Lick.

—Stephen B. Elkins will run for Congress in the Second District of West Virginia against William L. Wilson, the present distinguished democratic representative from that community. This is by special request of the republican managers, Mr. Blaine included.

VARIOUS STATISTICS.

Statistics recently published show that nearly 7,000 American citizens reside in and about Paris.

The expenses of a Presidential election in this country are about $20,000,000, which, divided by four, gives $5,000,000 a year as what we pay for maintaining free government. Doubtless much of this is expended foolishly, some, perhaps, wrongfully; but this Yankee Nation all the same gets better Government at a cheaper rate than any other people in the world.

"Only fifty years ago," says Sir Spencer Wells, "the average duration of human life in Great Britain was thirty years; to-day, according to statistics, it is forty-nine years. In fifty years the population has increased by eight millions. At least two millions of this increase may be put down as the fruit of improved sanitary and medical work, and of victory over preventable sickness."

The total number of European troops in English India in 1886 was 61,015, and the average death-rate per thousand was 15.18; in the province of Bengal there were 30,000 men, and the death-rate was 15.3; in the province of Madras, 11,000, and the death-rate 16.2; province of Bombay, 11,000, death-rate 12.7. The number of native troops was 100,010, and the death-rate was 19.46 per thousand.

STRIKES are expensive things, both to the employers and employees, as is shown by the financial report of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. The report covers the period of the great strike on that road, and a remarkable decrease in the earnings, as compared with those of 1887, is exhibited. The decrease in gross earnings was $1,741,433, and in net earnings $1,719,973. The company estimates that it lost from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 by the strike, necessitating a quarterly dividend of only one per cent.

WEST VIRGINIA thus far hasn't made much noise in the world, but she's big enough to, and growing in certain directions. According to recent statistics she is larger than Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey and Delaware combined. Their population is 3,993,040; hers, 618,547. The value of their property is over $5,638,000,000; of hers, $3,807,000,000. At the same rate per square mile as the five other States named, her population would be 4,573,884, and her true wealth $5,941,779,128.

The world consumes annually, according to English authority in the trade, about 650,000 tons of coffee, and produces a corresponding quantity. Estimating the average price at $90 a ton, this represents a value of $58,500,000. Jamaica coffee is the finest grown, but only furnishes about 5,000 tons. East India and Ceylon coffees are of a very high quality, but they do not together produce more than 25,000 tons. The Ceylon crop used to be more important than it is, but has been reduced in consequence of a disease of the plants. The average crop of Java is from 60,000 to 90,000 tons, and that of Brazil from 340,000 to 380,000 tons. Costa Rica and the other Central American States also export coffee.

SOUND AND SAPIENT.

You will never have a friend if you must have one without failings.

To have what we want is riches, but to be able to do without it is power.

You may boast of your ancestry, but your actions demonstrate what you are.

THERE is no such thing as absolute perfection, and no one need fear ever becoming too well informed.

DO NOT make witticisms at the expense of others which you would not wish to have made upon yourselves.

BE RUDE to none; rudeness harms not even the humblest and poorest to whom it is directed, but it injures the exhibitors.

NEVER treat superiors with severity or inferiors with arrogance. Speak as kindly to a day laborer as to one occupying a high position.

FORTUNE and misfortune are close neighbors, and the man who staggers about in trying to get under the roof of the former often lands under the latter.

MANY a young miss who vigorously protests against running the family sewing machine a little while, even, would propel herself about upon a treadle for hours at a time without a murmur.

A LARGE promise without performance is like a false fire to a great piece, which discharges a good expectation with bad report. I will forethink what I will promise, that I may promise but what I will do.

SOME of the so-called afflictions of the day have underlying them a sound principle; they may be educational in their tendencies, and to be educated, to improve, is, as well as money getting, one of our hobbies to-day.

ALWAYS give precedence to elders, visitors and superiors. Offer them the best seat at the table, the best place by the fire and the first of every thing. Go farther than mere form and see that they are comfortable and happy.

BECAUSE one is stimulated by alcoholic drinks he imagines that he is strengthened also, but he is really stimulated beyond his natural strength, and unnatural exhaustion inevitably follows. Just as far as he has been elevated beyond his normal condition does he afterward sink below it, and this alternate elevation and depression is very wearing upon nerves and brain.

MARINE MATTERS.

A BRITISH vessel is now surveying a route between Australia and Canada, preliminary to laying a telegraph cable. The cable will be 7,500 miles long, and the work of laying it will take three years.

A STEAM life-boat is being tested by the English Government. The boat will be fifty feet long, with twelve foot beam, and is to be propelled by a turbine wheel driven by an engine of 150-horse power.

A STEAM whaler recently arrived at San Francisco with a catch of thirty-five whales, the largest on record. The yield was some 3,500 barrels of oil and over 50,000 pounds of bone, the whole valued at $94,800.

The skill with which dock rats board a vessel by running along her cables has long been a terror to ship owners. A protector has just been invented in the shape of a big tin funnel through which the cable runs. The big end of the funnel faces the shore, and the rats can not surmount it.

The new navy, when completed, will consist of 22 vessels, ranging from the armored cruiser Maine, carrying 444 men, down to a first-class torpedo boat, carrying 4 officers and 18 men. There will be 5,750 men on board the 22 vessels, 500 officers and 5,250 sailors and marines.

AN English Blue Book has just been issued, which gives the number of vessels contained in the navies of the different maritime powers of Europe as follows: Battle ships—England, 49; France, 30; Italy, 21; Germany, 13; Russia, 9. Cruisers—England, 87; France, 67; Germany, 29; Russia, 25; Italy, 21. Torpedo vessels and boats—England, 150; France, 140; Italy, 138; Russia, 97; Germany, 90.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

WAYNESBURG.

The general health of our community was never better than at present. No flux or fever, so far as I know, in this immediate neighborhood.

The Sunday-school at this place is on a boom. Average for the three last Sundays, 190. Everybody seems interested. The finances of the school are in good condition.

R. V. Freeman, the energetic life insurance agent for the People's Mutual, of Louisville, has been writing up policies for the boys for the last week past. Millard Padgett is at home for a few days, winding up some land matters with Mr. Mr. Faguly, of Ohio.

Our free school is in a flourishing condition. We have now a first-class teacher, who is laboring to get our school on a still higher plane of instruction. We are striving for a graded school for next winter, when all the young teachers can qualify themselves better for teaching next season. The trustees are talking of adding another story to our school-house, with recitation rooms, &c.

The protracted meeting closed last Monday with 27 additions, 25 of them for baptism. The most of the preaching was done by Elder A. V. Sizemore, of Louisville, who was room-mate with Elder J. T. Barrett, our pastor, at the Louisville Seminary during last session. Bro. Sizemore is an able, earnest preacher. He labored faithfully for ten days and his labors were abundantly blessed. Elder Wm. T. Reynolds is preaching a series of sermons down in the Gooch neighborhood, five miles southeast of this place, with good success. Bro. Billy, as he is usually called, is a good, old-fashioned Baptist preacher, and a fine reasoner on the scripture. Has 25 additions to date.

The election passed off as quietly as a funeral; not a drop of red liquor to be had on the ground; not even a foul breath. This town used to average about 15 fights every election day when we had plenty of free whisky, but since we have no more whisky everybody comes up and casts their votes and go home to their wives and children sober. We all feel grateful for the good local option has done, in our town, at least. Whatever may be said of prohibition failing to prohibit in other towns, it always prohibits here. The reason of the failure elsewhere is in the failure of the officers of the law to execute it.

We are called on to chronicle the death of two more of our old neighbors. W. L. Singleton died last Monday night of consumption. He had been lingering for a long time between life and death. A few days before his death he confessed Jesus and was baptized and joined the Baptist church at this place. He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his loss. Polly Singleton died a few days since of the same dread disease, consumption. Her case was not so lingering as the other, but like all such cases, they are bound to go. She leaves a young child to be cared for by her parents, who are, I am sorry to say, in very bad condition financially to have to raise the child.

CENTRAL NORMAL SCHOOL and Business College, Pleasureville, Henry Co., Ky. Fall session opens first Tuesday in Sept., '88; $28.50 pays table board, room rent and tuition for ten weeks. Private board $2 per week; room rent 50c per week. Business College equal to any in the State. Schools of Music and Art taught by artists of ability. Short-hand, Telegraphy and Type-writing taught by competent teachers. Three hundred and twenty-five matriculates last year. We have the school and at living prices. Send for catalogue. Address J. B. Secrest, President.

The Rev. Geo. H. Thayer, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." McRoberts & Stagg, Stanford, Ky.; Crow & Co., McKinney, Ky.; E. W. Jones, Crab Orchard, Ky.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Two hundred guests are now at Crab Orchard Springs.

—The Kentucky State Guards are expected at the C. O. Springs the latter part of this month.

—The concert at the Springs, in which the Misses Thixton took part, was said to be very fine and the large audience present greatly enjoyed the entire performance.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. Livingston returned from Louisville Sunday, but business called Mr. L. back to Cincinnati Monday and his wife accompanied him. They are expected at C. O. Springs to-day (Thursday) where they have rooms engaged for the rest of the season. Their many friends join me in wishing that that their lives may be happy, prosperous and long.

—Miss Maggie McRoberts, of Danville, is the guest of Mrs. Mary Garnett. Mrs. W. M. Higgins and Mr. W. H. Higgins, of Stanford, paid a short visit to Mrs. Kate Egbert and family. Mr. and Mrs. Scott Farris are attending the Harrodsburg Fair. Miss Lena Miller, of New Haven, is the guest of Miss Katie James. Mr. George Evans, of Kansas City, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. J. H. Hutchings. Mrs. Robert Collier and Misses Annie Stuart and Kittie Douglass have returned from a visit to friends in Danville. Miss Nellie Yantis, of Lancaster, is the guest of Mrs. J. L. Yantis. Mr. John S. Edmiston, of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting his parents. Miss Lelia Douglass, of Danville, is the guest of her sister, Miss Kittie.

HUBBLE.

—Bro. Evans will preach here from Wednesday till Sunday night.

—G. P. Bright is freight rate agent for the Louisville Southern from Danville to Louisville. He can give good rates.

—John Bright shot a white crane a few days ago that was 52 inches from bill to toes and 66 from one point of wing to the other point.

—John W. Bright has watermelons that weigh 72 pounds. D. N. Prewitt bought J. J. Walker's hogs at 5¢ and 4 cents. He also bought some of Mrs. Broadus, weighing 158 pounds, at 5¢. John W. Bright takes a lot of ewes from D. N. Prewitt and gets the wool and ewes for the lambs from them for one season. R. L. Hubble bought a 2-year-old jack for $800.

Long-Standing

This medicine is an Alternative, and causes a radical change in the system. The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—

"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"I had a dry, scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyson, (of Fernandina, Fla.) recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers st., New York City.

"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.

I have sometimes had to substitute 'Zeilin's stuff' for your Medicine, but it doesn't answer the purpose." Dr. J. R. Graves, Editor The Register, Memphis, Tenn., says: "I received a package of your Liver Medicine, and have used half of it. It works like a charm. I want no better Liver Regulator and certainly no more of Zeilin's mixture."
